Leaflets launched into North Korea via balloons

With a new U.S. President & administration as well as many new Members of Congress, with the uncertainty & speculation about North Korea's current "Dear Leader", & with governments continually sidelining human rights concerns to try to resolve the nuclear issue, this year's North Korea Freedom Week is more critical than ever before as we raise our voices to advocate for a people more isolated & arguably more persecuted than any in the world today.

Join us in welcoming a special delegation of visiting North Korean defectors as we lift our voices together!
