INTERNATIONAL PROTEST AGAINST CHINA'S VIOLENT ACTION TOWARDS NORTH KOREAN REFUGEES

All around the world people who care about the suffering of others will be gathering at China's embassies and consulate offices to protest China's forcible repatriation of North Korean refugees. Here in Washington, D.C. please join NGO leaders from the USA and Korea, North Korean refugees who made it to freedom and their rescuers, and other special guests as we take a stand for the most persecuted and suffering people in the world today: North Korean refugees hiding in China. Each day in violation of the international agreements it has signed, the Chinese government hunts down starving refugees forcing them to return to North Korea where they face torture, imprisonment, and execution for the "crime" of leaving their country. Take a stand to end China's atrocity against starving refugees!
